

ARIZONA STATE UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF MUSIC - KATZIN CONCERT HALL

NEW ADDITION | JOINT VENTURE: DWL ARCHITECTS AND PLANNERS IN PHEONIX

COMPLETED: 1991

PROGRAM: 124,000 SF

BUDGET: $11.7 MILLION

CLIENT: ARIZONA STATE UNIVERSITY

MBA TEAM:

EDWARD C. MATHES, ARCHITECT, AIA

PETER F. PRIOLA, ARCHITECT, AIA

ANN SCHMUELLING, ARCHITECT, AIA

■ The Arizona State University Music School joins an ensemble of three monumental public buildings; the Gammage Center by Frank Lloyd Wright, The Fine Arts Center by Antoine Predock, and the Music Building by the Taliesin Fellowship. The Music Building Expansion incorporates a recital hall, an organ/choral rehearsal hall, departments for jazz, percussion, electronic music, choral, organ, and music education, and a 30,000 square foot music library. The project also includes faculty studios, graduate teaching assistant offices, practice rooms, and the auxiliary, technical and administration spaces. Mathes Brierre Architects, formerly The DWL Architects and Planners in Phoenix.