■ Mathes Brierre Architects provided the architectural, interior design and landscape services for the full renovation of the Tower Hotel, originally built in 1971. Due to conditions associated with Hurricane Katrina, it was repurchased in 2008, unoccupied and uninhabitable. Located across the river from downtown New Orleans, the 13 story iconic tower provides guests with panoramic views of the city skyline. The 181 room hotel and full service restaurant was designed into a sleek, contemporary Holiday Inn with all the modern-day amenities for guests.
